

MORNING MEETINGS

WAKE UP

An appearance by the Raspyni Brothers wakes up a morning meeting faster than a dozen Starbucks double cappuccinos. They are the perfect way to energize the crowd and set an enthusiastic, upbeat tone for the day. In fact, nothing says “wake up” faster than flying machetes and 16-pound bowling balls.

Their flexibility allows them to perform programs of variable lengths. Whether this talented twosome is part of a quick skit or full length program, they will catch your audience off-guard, with an energy and intensity that should be illegal so early in the morning.

Start your day with a jolt. Focus and energize your crowd after a late night of convention festivities with an act that’s well-rested, ready, and raring to go.
